DANI JEBB - JUDGE

Auburn POM INVITATIONAL 2027

She has dedicated two decades to the sport of pom as a competitive athlete, team leader, choreographer, instructor, and coach. Dani is the former co-head coach of the Heritage varsity pom team, where she coached for six years, overseeing choreography, technique, conditioning, competition preparation, team development, and athlete mentorship.

Her pom journey began at Swan Valley Middle School before continuing to Swan Valley High School, where she competed on the varsity pom team for four years and was part of the state championship-winning team her senior year. She also began coaching early, serving as an assistant coach for the Swan Valley Middle School pom team while on SV Varsity. She is now inducted into the Swan Valley Athletics Hall of Fame.

Dani spent four years on Mid American Pom staff, training and choreographing while working alongside talented athletes and coaches throughout the region. She also continued her competitive career at Saginaw Valley State University, where she was a four-year pom team member and held leadership positions as Secretary, Vice President, and ultimately President/Captain. Dani also has 12 years of dance experience, including 5 years on her studio's competitive team.

Dani earned two bachelor's degrees from Saginaw Valley State University and currently works as a Communications Specialist at the Department of Veterans Affairs – VA Saginaw Healthcare System. Outside of her professional endeavors, Dani enjoys spending time with her husband and daughter.
